

LANDMARKS IN HAWAII'S HISTORY TO BE SHOWN TONIGHT AT TWENTY-FIRST MEETING OF SOCIETY

Historical Organization to Hear Interesting Papers on Islands' Past

The twenty-first annual meeting of the Hawaiian Historical Society will be held this evening in the society's rooms at the new library of Hawaii building, at which time various matters of business will be discussed, including the reading of reports covering the past year, and also the election of officers for the ensuing year.

The Hawaiian Historical Society was organized on January 11, 1892, for the purpose of the collection, study and utilization of all materials illustrating the ethnology, archaeology, and history of the Hawaiian islands, the first annual meeting being held in Queen Emma hall December 5, 1892. The first officers of the organization were Hon. C. R. Bishop, president; J. S. Emerson, vice president; T. G. Thrum, treasurer; Prof. W. D. Alexander, corresponding secretary; and R. R. Hoes, librarian. The society is not committed to any political faith, or ecclesiastical creed, or the advancement of any one of the several nationalities which are represented in the territory of Hawaii, and its object is to seek exact historic truth relating to the islands of the south sea. From whatever source it may reach the society.

One of the principal items of business at the first meeting of the society was the appointing of a committee consisting of Judge Dole, Chaplain Hoes, U. S. N., and Prof. M. M. Scott to report some method of cooperation or affiliation with the Honolulu Library Association to insure the safe-keeping of the material in the way of publications, records, and books presented to the society. The Honolulu Library Association finally accepted the proposition of the society, and at a meeting of the latter organization on April 7, 1892, the basis of agreement was reported and unanimously accepted by the members of the society.

Immediately after the organization of the society, letters were sent to a number of people in other countries who were interested in Polynesian history, and many of them were elected as corresponding members of the society. At the time that the society was but one year old, it had already a library of which it was justly proud. It was the largest collection in the world at that time, and perhaps is yet, of books and pamphlets relating to this portion of the globe. A few small collections were purchased and several were donated to the society by various people. The library was divided into two sections, the first embracing books and pamphlets relating in whole or in part to the Hawaiian islands, and the second relating to the islands and countries of the Pacific ocean. These publications were printed in the English, Hawaiian, and Portuguese languages, and included bound volumes of newspapers, atlases, pamphlets, and books. The society was a success from the start, and at the end of the first year the original membership of twenty-one had increased to two hundred and fifty-seven.

Upon the issuance of the nineteenth annual report of the society following the twentieth annual meeting which was held on January 25, 1912, success has followed closely upon the heels of the society. The financial condition of the society was shown to be in good condition and the report of the librarian, Miss Edna

GEORGE R. CARTER
President of the society, now absent from the territory.

Allyn, shows a large increase in the already well-supplied library. Soon after the completion of the plans for the new library of Hawaii, the society petitioned the trustees of that institution for space in the new building to be utilized for a proper meeting place and room for the society's library. This was granted after very little deliberation, and the society is now housed in comfortable quarters, with ample space for the thousands of books and other publications which have been collected during the twenty years of its existence.

The Hawaiian Historical Society now has one hundred and fifty members who are residents of the islands and also thirty-one corresponding members, scattered all over the globe. For the past twenty years, ever since the organization of the Hawaiian Historical Society, the valuable history of the Hawaiian people has awakened a new interest in this department of study, and this is more and more being stimulated by the society. There are chapters in the history of the Hawaiian islands which compare favorably with many of those which have been written for other countries, and it is the desire of the society to keep in hand the threads of the history of Hawaii which otherwise might be permanently lost, in order that hereafter they may be woven by the historian into a lasting and symmetrical whole.

Papers to be presented tonight are: Admiral W. H. H. Southerland's narrative of "Incidents Connected with the Election of King Kalakaua in February, 1874," to be read by Hon. Sanford B. Dole; "The Ceremony of the Mysteries," original translation of Maori priesthood rituals, by Francis J. Green; "The First Hawaiian Cartography Prior to Cook's Rediscovery," by Rev. Fr. Reginald Yzendoorn. The present officers are: President, Geo. R. Carter; first vice-president, Albert F. Judd; second vice-president, Wm. D. Alexander; third vice-president, C. Montague Cooke, Jr.; treasurer, W. D. Westervelt; recording secretary, Edgar Wood; corresponding secretary, Howard M. Ballou; librarian, Miss E. I. Allyn. Additional members board of managers: Dr. N. B. Emerson, Bruce Cartwright, Jr., Prof. Chas. H. Hitchcock. Trustee, Library of Hawaii, A. Lewis, Jr. Standing Committees: Library Committee, W. D. Westervelt, Albert F. Judd, J. W. TWO SPECIAL SERVICES AT CENTRAL UNION

Regular attendants at Central Union church may be surprised to hear that there Sunday morning, January 12th, the special occasion of the Salvation Army Convention in this city, however, leads the church to welcome to its pulpit at the morning service a representative of a cause not directly connected with the work of the church. Col. Cox will take for her subject "The Cry of the Hills."

At the evening service at half-past seven Mr. A. B. Ingalls, organist and director, will present a special musical program, including that exquisite anthem by Buck "Awake! I am on Thy Strength, O Zion!" Rev. Doremus Scudder will give the sermon, speaking on "Things."

SALVATION ARMY'S ANNUAL CONFERENCE BEGINS TODAY

The Salvation Army in Honolulu, under the leadership of Col. Blanche B. Cox, is to begin a series of meetings today, extending over a period of six days. It is their annual conference, and the officers at work in the various islands are assembling for it. The program is a most attractive one, and has been especially arranged for the public, the private meetings being but few in number. All the services are to be held in the Army hall, King and Nuuanu streets, with the exception of Sunday morning and night. The Army hall has been renovated and decorated for the occasion. Here is a brief summary of the program:

On Sunday morning, Jan. 12th, Col. Cox is to preach from the pulpit of the Central Union Church. Her subject will be: "The Cry of the Hills."

On Sunday night, she preaches at the Bijou theater, upon the subject, "Why the Battle Was Lost."

On Saturday night there is to be a great rally and welcome meeting.

On Sunday afternoon a Christian's praise meeting, to which all are cordially invited, not only to attend but to take part.

On Monday night the subject is, "Miracles, and How They Are Wrought."

On Tuesday an especially interesting meeting is arranged, being the stereoscopic lecture on the Holy Land, showing 120 of the fine slides taken by Col. Cox on her recent trip through Palestine.

For Wednesday night another topic of great interest will be presented. Col. Cox will dress in native Hindoo costume and tell of her two years' missionary work in India.

Thursday will close the campaign, with a public banquet at 5 p. m. and a great musical festival at 8.

These meetings will be of peculiar interest to the Christians and the public, all of them being of unique character, and it is to be hoped that a full audience will comprise each one. All are free.

The program:

Saturday, Jan. 11, at 8 p. m.—Grand rally and welcome to visiting officers.

Sunday, Jan. 12, 3 p. m.—Christian's praise meeting.

Monday, Jan. 13, at 8 p. m.—Miracles and How They Are Wrought.

Tuesday, Jan. 14, at 8 p. m.—Stereoscopic lecture on "My Trip Through the Holy Land."

Wednesday, Jan. 15, 3 p. m.—An hour with God. At 8 p. m.—Mukhtauf in India. (Col. Cox will wear the native dress and tell of her work in India.)

Thursday, Jan. 16, 5 p. m.—Public banquet. At 8 p. m.—A musical festival.

CHRISTIAN CHURCH.

The sermons of this church are intended to reach the root of practical problems. If you find it hard sometime to reach the ideal set for yourself, you will probably find help here. Minister Peters will preach at 11 a. m. and 7:30 p. m. tomorrow.

JUNIOR C. E.'S TO HOLD RALLY

A big rally of the Junior Christian Endeavor societies and Junior Epworth leagues of the city will be held in Kawaiahao church tomorrow afternoon, at three o'clock. The meeting will begin with a brief song service and there will be other special music. An interesting historical sketch of the Junior Union will be given, Rev. Robert E. Smith of the Methodist church of this city will give the address of the day, and Mr. John Martin will tell some of his famous stories to the children. Besides this there will be reports from all the Junior Societies and a collection taken for a new Union banner. A special invitation is extended to every child in the city to be present.

SUNDAY MORNING CLASS COVERS VARIED FIELDS

The subject-matter presented by Mr. Ebersole in the Sunday Morning Bible Class at the Kiloahua Club rooms is the product of years of the most careful gleaning, and includes a great deal about the gospels that the ordinary study of these records might not give.

The text-book used is Prof. Bosworth's "Studies in the Life of Jesus Christ," but upon every lesson much additional material is introduced. And it is this added information and the running comment on the text that makes the class so instructive and interesting.

This class is being attended by
